I have know my husband since I was 9 years old and he was 12. Being a silly little girl I didn't have boys on my mind, my biggest thing was school. So I immediately started running and I literally ran for sixteen years. All the time I didn't know he even knew I still existed. He would go to my mother's house and visit with her, several people have told me. He even told me himself, he loved him some Angie. Giving us time to have the children we have together but separately . Until one day he showed up at my door out of the blue. We lived together for 5 years and then decided to tie the knot in "94". When the minister said for better or worse, sickness and health till death he hung in there. Rest in peace, my friend , my spouse, my rock. Anne. Angela DeJohnette McFarland
