

Carolyn Campbell

July 23, 1946 - May 20, 2020

Born in Plattsburgh, New York. Married Alan B Campbell

Tribute Wall

SW

“ Aunt Carolyn was my great aunt; my grandmother's sister-in-law. She was such a classy and fashionable woman that I admired. Growing up I can remember her days here in Little Silver & Wildwood New Jersey. She allowed me to play with the cats and check people in at the hotel they owned in Wildwood, NJ. I miss those days. I am glad that we recently reconnected through social media. She will forever be in my heart. Rest in peace with Uncle Alan.

Stephanie Walters-Laurino - May 29, 2020 at 01:31 PM

LC

“ Carolyn had a way of making you feel like an old friend the moment she met you. She could always make me smile. We will miss traveling with her.

Linda Culliver - May 27, 2020 at 01:28 AM

DL

“ I enjoyed going on trips and volunteering with Carolyn. She was a very classy lady.

DORALYN LUKE - May 26, 2020 at 01:02 PM

SP

“ She was a sweet lady and a great fellow Tripster. May she rest in peace.

Sam Pincus - May 25, 2020 at 02:54 PM

NN

“ Carolyn, you were always such a joy to see at church. She was in my small group at WOW for a time, then i got to see her at Data Entry when she volunteered there. I always was so happy to see your smiling face as i was walking across church grounds to see you greeting people as we came in. What a joy and a blessing it was to get to know you. Alan I pray God is ever present with you during this time and you feel his comfort. She was such a joy and even happier now with her Savior. God bless and keep you. Nicole

Nicole Neubeck - May 23, 2020 at 11:55 AM