

Charles Lea Simmons

August 28, 1955 - September 17, 2025

Charles (Chuck) Simmons, 70, of Indian Springs, Nevada, passed away on September 17, 2025.

Born in 1955 in Modesto, California, Chuck was the beloved son of Barbara Carpenter and Billy Simmons. From an early age, Chuck displayed a gift for working with his hands, a skill that led him to become a highly respected plumber. His craftsmanship and dedication were admired by all who knew him.

Chuck had a unique gift for bringing joy into the lives of others. Known for his quick wit, inside jokes, and boundless imagination, he could fill a room with laughter and light. His playful spirit earned him the nickname “Run-A-Muck,” and he had a way of making both smiles and groans appear at the same time. Chuck was also a passionate traveler and explorer, with a love for steampunk culture and an enduring fondness for Star Wars—especially Baby Yoda, his favorite character.

Beyond his humor and hobbies, Chuck’s heart shined brightest in service to others. He regularly volunteered at his local food pantry, giving his time generously to help those in need. Above all, he was a devoted and loving father, remembered as the most wonderful and kindhearted of men. His absence leaves a deep void, but his love and laughter will forever echo in the lives he touched.

Chuck is survived by his daughters and their spouses, Sandra & Jarrod Burchardt, Theresa Simmons & Bodie Bair, and Asher Simmons, along with dozens of beloved family members.

Rest peacefully, dear Chuck. Your memory will live on in the hearts of those who cherished you, through countless stories, shared laughter, and the legacy of your love.
