Miss Me but Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me I want no rites in a gloom-filled room. Why cry for a soul that's set free. Miss me a little, but not too long and not with your head bowed low. Remember the love that we once shared. Miss me, but let me go. For this is a journey that we all must take and each must go alone. It's all a part of the Master's plan, a step on the road to home. When you are lonely and sick of heart, go to the friends we knew and laugh at the things that we used to do. Miss me, but let me go.

“ Denice, we have been friends for so long. Even though we live far apart I never stopped valuing our friendship. All the good times we had from Tucson to my stops in Vegas. You were a true friend and loved to the fullest. Fly high my friend until we meet again and we can bowl some strikes together.

“ Dearest Denice, Tony, family, and friends, we were all honored to share a part of Denice's lifeshe was a treasure, and a wonderful human being. I had the pleasure of working with her for several years, and she was one of my early friends in Las Vegas. She was fun, and funny, and a true friend at work or play. I will miss our lunches and meetings for coffee and long chats or rants! Rest In Peace, dear one. Until we meet again, Love always, Kate
