A Fallen Limb

A limb has fallen from the family tree. I keep hearing a voice that says, "Grieve not for me. Remember the best times, the laughter, the song. The good life I lived while I was strong. Continue my heritage, I'm counting on you. Keep smiling and surely the sun will shine through. My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest. Remembering all, how I truly was blessed. Continue traditions, no matter how small. Go on with your life, don't worry about falls. I miss you all dearly, so keep up your chin. Until the day comes, we're together again."

“ My Dearest Sister - how will I go on without you? Without your beautiful soul in my life. Who will tell me how wonderful and proud they are of me and who will say "I just adore you." You always reminded me how proud you were of me and you always let me know how much you loved me. Just the thought of not being able to hear your voice and your contagious laughter is breaking my heart. Sister, thank you for loving me so much and my family. You had the kindest, gentlest soul. You were there for all of us - always with love and open arms. There is no one like you. I can't imagine my life without you but I have no choice now. Now I must face each day with a piece of my heart missing. I love you my dear sweet beautiful sister....until we meet again.

“ Elisa, I miss you already. I miss our lunches and our talks about life. You were such a kind soul and a good person. You will be truly missed. You were the kindest person I have even known and you will never be forgotten. In my and my husbands life. My prayers go out to your family, as I know you are in God's hands now.
