James Maurice Banks, a devoted family man and dedicated public servant, passed away peacefully on April 19, 2024, in Las Vegas, Nevada. He was born on July 9, 1939, in Queens, New York, and was one of six children.

James's life was characterized by a deep commitment to both his family and his community. After meeting and marrying the love of his life, Elizabeth (Betty) Boyle, they proudly raised their three sons, Jim, Michael and Robert. His wife preceded him in death, but her memory lived on in his heart and in the family they built together.

A proud member of the Suffolk County Police Department, James dedicated himself to the noble cause of serving and protecting his community. His years in law enforcement were marked by integrity, bravery, and a steadfast dedication to upholding justice.

In 1990, after a distinguished career, James retired to Las Vegas with Betty, where they embraced a new chapter of their lives together. They reveled in the sunny days and warm weather.

In recent years, James faced health challenges, battling dementia and prostate cancer, but found exceptional care at Aegis Living in Las Vegas, where he spent his final days in comfort and peace.

James is survived by his devoted sons, Jim, Michael and Robert, as well as his son-in-law, Michael Fisk. His sister, Dorothy (Dottie) Wikman, and many nieces and nephews.

James Maurice Banks leaves behind a legacy of service, and unwavering dedication.

In accordance with his wishes, a private memorial service will be held to celebrate James's life and honor his memory. In lieu of flowers, the family kindly requests that donations be made to the Alzheimer's Association:
