I give you this one thought to keep ?I am with you still I do not sleep.?I am a thousand winds that blow,?I am the diamond glints on snow,?I am the sunlight on ripened grain,?I am the gentle autumn rain.?When you awaken in the morning's hush,?I am the sweet uplifting rush,?of quiet birds in circled flight. ?I am the soft stars that shine at night.?Do not think of me as gone ?I am with you still in each new dawn.

“ I wrote this the day after Kim passed, but didn't post because it made it all too real as I was grieving for Maria. As we come up upon a year, I know Maria is fine, Kim is looking over his loved ones, and his spirit continues to be a good steward of the planet. I had known Kim for 38 years and lived with Maria, Kim, and Ron for a year in the house on Partidge Street in Las Vegas where we all had a lot of fun. Kim's laugh cannot be replicated. What a laugh he had! And his stories of his life adventures were hilarious. He had a kind soul. His kindness and concern for the environment and animals was endearing. Rest in Peace, Kimmy, knowing that Maria and Kurtis are surrounded with the love of friends and family, and the memories of you.

“ Kim and I lived west of Tucson from 75-79 at Ranch West , our little hippie commune. Patty(my g f) Alison (Kims g f) and I decided to scour the desert for cholla cactus skeletons as we found a buyer who wanted to make them into lamps. Kim decided he didnt want to participate so the 3 of us drove for a few days collecting the chollas. We had quite a few truckloads deposited in our corral not thinking about what we were doing to the ecology of the animals and plants the chollas were hosts to. Kim (a total earth lover of all things) gave us a talk one night about our destructiveness and argued for the habitat loss we were participating in. Well, he was right and shamed us into replacing ALL of the skeletons back to the desert which took us a few more days in the desert heat. Lesson learned : be a good steward of our planet. Thanks Kim, you taught me well. Sog aka Bob

“ Kim, I am going to miss you and your stories of how you loved the planet! The last few years on our visits we had deep conversations . Together we cried, laughed and just really enjoyed each other's company over morning coffee. Thank you for your kind soul! You loved your home and I did too! Thank you for your hospitality and your wonderful human kind gesture of planting flowers for when the Tia's (aunts) came to stay at your home! You are one of a kind and I am so happy to have known you. Just so sorry I couldn't say good-bye! R.I.P
