Miss Me but Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me I want no rites in a gloom-filled room. Why cry for a soul that's set free. Miss me a little, but not too long and not with your head bowed low. Remember the love that we once shared. Miss me, but let me go. For this is a journey that we all must take and each must go alone. It's all a part of the Master's plan, a step on the road to home. When you are lonely and sick of heart, go to the friends we knew and laugh at the things that we used to do. Miss me, but let me go.

“ To the Family of Larry Williams. I am so shocked. I just sent a text to Larry to wish him happy birthday. I had no idea he had passed, but I assumed something had happened when I received no response. Such a dedicated Marine, he loved the Marines. Larry was a wise man, funny to the bone, with a very quick wit. I was blessed to have known him. RIP Larry.

“ To Larry's Family and Friends, I met Larry about 15 years ago in Niagara Falls, NY when he was visiting from Toledo, Ohio. Larry was here to pay respects to Marine Lt. John Paul Bobo who was killed in 1967. Larry served under Lt. Bobo in India Co. 3/9 in Vietnam and he demonstrated the utmost respect for him and came here almost every year to put flowers on John's grave site. I am also a Marine veteran and I served in Lima Co. 3/9 in 1969. I am also a member for the Lt. John Paul Bobo Detachment 1118 of the Marine Corps League in Western NY. We became very close friends and Larry was more like a brother and mentor to me. Larry moved to Las Vegas about 5 years ago and asked if I could take over placing flowers at Lt. Bobo's grave site. Not only was I willing but I was honored to do it. Larry was well liked and respected by all the members of our Detachment and we looked forward to his visits to our area. Larry will be missed but his memory and great stories will remain in our hearts. May the Peace of the Lord be with him and may God Bless you all. Sincerely, John Attanasio
