Afterglow

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one. I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when my life is done. I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways. Of happy times and laughing times and bright sunny days. I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun. Of happy memories that I leave when life is done.

“ After my most Courageous friend of the last 35 years Lisa realized she had incurable cancer we often spoke of Heaven and the afterlife when we would get together and watch movies in the last months of her life. Lisa was a most Kind, Giving and Generous soul to my wife Michelle and I. I always wanted her to know and believe that what happens to her in this life is of little account as long as the Good Lord holds her in His Eternal Life, which I believe He does now. Blessings to you always and Forever, my friend Lisa.

“ Lisa's strength of character makes her an inspiration to all of us. She never complained even when we knew there wasn't that much time left for her. God Bless her soul. We will miss her.
