A Fallen Limb

A limb has fallen from the family tree. I keep hearing a voice that says, "Grieve not for me. Remember the best times, the laughter, the song. The good life I lived while I was strong. Continue my heritage, I'm counting on you. Keep smiling and surely the sun will shine through. My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest. Remembering all, how I truly was blessed. Continue traditions, no matter how small. Go on with your life, don't worry about falls. I miss you all dearly, so keep up your chin. Until the day comes we're together again."

“ I met Big Mike through my husband playing in the lounge. He would bring me fresh homemade Pizzeles. He was so full of life and always smelled and look like 1 million bucks. He had a personality so full and would always tell old-time Vegas stories. My husband Danny Toscano remembers him standing at the four corners outside the dunes at the big wheel. he would come to the lounge to see cookie jar a band my husband played in at the time but then continued their friendship throughout the years and no matter where he was Mike would always come by and say hello. he attended my 60th birthday at Arizona Charlie's and made me feel like a queen. he will truly be missed and never forgotten. “ Big Mike, such an awesome blackjack dealer who became our friend over the years. Loved listening to his stories of Vegas years ago. His humour was priceless and put so many smiles on our faces. Thanks Mike!
