After entering into America, he traveled to Fulton, NY where he was a migrant worker on his Uncle's Farm. As a poor immigrant, with limited means, job experiences, skills, & facing language challenges Filippo foraged ahead by working hard.. providing for himself, his brother & his parent's back home in Sicily. He then later met & married Catherina (Ina) Panto on Feb. 23rd, 1957, where they settled in Syracuse, NY. They had 2 children, a daughter, Carmella

“ It’s hard to put into words how special Uncle Philip was. He had a heart of gold and never hesitated to help anyone. I’ll always cherish the memories of him teaching me to drive—he was so patient and the best teacher I could have asked for. And I don’t think I’ll ever taste arancini as good as his! I miss him so much and love him always.

“ He was a sweet, kind man. I’m upset I hadn’t seen him in a while. Always welcomed me with open arms. Loved to share his home made Italian meals, eager to tell me how good he was doing. I do miss you Mr. Scordo. One thing I do know, you can reunite with your beautiful Catherina now. - your home health nurse - Tina❤️
