“ If ever there was a woman truly loved by their family, I would say Sandi was such a woman. I had the pleasure of meeting her quite a few years ago and she had nothing but love for her family and friends. Tracey and family, my heart hurts so badly for you because I know how close you were to your mom. I know you have great memories and noone can ever take those away. Take some time for yourselves now and bask in those memories. Give yourselves time to soak everything in....especially when thinking about her no longer in pain. I'm sending love and light and loving energy to each and every one of you. Please be gentle with yourselves; I know she would want that. Love you all.
