

Victoria T Prinz

July 13, 1929 - September 20, 2018

Victoria Prinz's story is one of a truly remarkable life. Italian through and through, she grew up on the East Coast working for her family in her grandfather's store. Victoria also performed as a singer in various clubs throughout Pittsburgh. When she moved to Las Vegas, Victoria worked in security at The Aladdin during the Strip's heyday and she met many Las Vegas legends including Ol' Blue Eyes himself. Victoria was funny, tough, and fiercely loved her family. Victoria's larger than life personality, coupled with her signature red hair, earned her the loving nickname of "The Red Riot", and her family often compared her to the likes of Lucille Ball. Victoria's story, legacy, and recipes will keep her at the forefront of our hearts and minds for generations to come.
